A message to shareholders

Dear shareholder,

Global equities had mixed results during the six months ended September 30, 2023. After a strong start to the period, the developed markets turned lower in July on worries that rising oil prices would lead to accelerating inflationary pressures and prompt central banks to keep interest rates higher for longer. In addition, weaker-than-expected economic data and renewed instability in China's property sector fueled concerns about the possibility of slowing global growth. Emerging markets posted losses for the period while Canada and the United States outpaced their global peers in relative terms.

Persistently high inflation and the deteriorating interest-rate outlook weighed on bonds, as well. The poor performance of U.S. Treasuries, which reflected the need for increased new issuance to fund the nation's rising debt load, was a key factor in the negative returns across the world fixed-income markets.

In these uncertain times, your financial professional can assist with positioning your portfolio so that it's sufficiently diversified to help meet your long-term objectives and to withstand the inevitable bouts of market volatility along the way.

On behalf of everyone at Manulife Investment Management, I'd like to take this opportunity to welcome new shareholders and thank existing shareholders for the continued trust you've placed in us.

Sincerely,

Andrew G. Arnott

Manager's Report

For the financial period ended 30 September 2023

U.S. All Cap Core Equity Fund

Discussion of Fund performance

An interview with Portfolio Manager Emory W. Sanders, Jr., CFA, Manulife Investment Management

What factors drove the U.S. stock market's return for the six months ended 30 September 2023?

An economy that proved unexpectedly resilient despite higher interest rates and geopolitical concerns helped lift stocks for the first four months of the period. Encouraging inflation data and better-than-expected corporate earnings were added tailwinds. Momentum, however, slowed in the third quarter amid the growing likelihood that the U.S. Federal Reserve would keep interest rates elevated for some time. In response, yields on 10-year U.S. Treasury bonds rose to their highest level in 16 years, boosting borrowing costs and savings rates and hampering investor sentiment. Stocks retreated in August and September, which tend to be seasonally weaker months for the market.

How did the Fund fare?

The Class W USD Accumulating Shares posted a gain of 2.64% ¹ but underperformed the 4.86% gain of its benchmark, the Russell 3000 Index, for the period. Security selection in the information technology, communication services, financials, real estate, and healthcare sectors hampered relative performance. Conversely, sector allocations helped, notably the Fund's lack of exposure to the utilities sector and an underweight in the lagging health care sector. Investment choices and an overweight in the consumer discretionary sector also helped.

Which stocks hindered relative performance most?

In the real estate sector, shares of wireless tower company Crown Castle Inc. fell sharply due to pressure from higher interest rates and the potential for reduced capital spending by wireless service providers. Media and sports entertainment company Liberty Media Formula One lost ground after the company spun two businesses to existing shareholders, both Liberty Media Corp.-Liberty Live and Liberty Media Corp.-Liberty Formula are held by the Fund at period end. Another detractor was Analog Devices, Inc., a semiconductor manufacturer that serves diverse end markets. Its stock declined due to lackluster sales as customer inventories and supply chains normalized post pandemic. Lastly, shares of natural foods company Hain Celestial Group, Inc. sank due to turnaround efforts under a new CEO taking longer than expected while facing supply chain and input pressures.

Conversely, which investments helped performance versus the benchmark?

In the consumer discretionary sector, shares of e-commerce giant Amazon.com, Inc. gained from healthy sales as the company began growing into its expanded infrastructure. In the communication services sector, shares of Google parent Alphabet Inc. rose on the back of accelerated advertising revenue growth and improvement in the company's online video-sharing business. In the information technology sector, shares of NVIDIA Corp., a leading manufacturer of semiconductor chips used in artificial intelligence and gaming, soared due to accelerating demand. Elsewhere, the stock of KKR & Co., Inc. rallied after the private equity firm reported solid quarterly results.

Notes about risk

The Fund is subject to various risks as described in the Fund's Prospectus. Political tensions, armed conflicts and any resulting economic sanctions on entities and/or individuals of a particular country could lead such a country into an economic recession. A widespread health crisis such as a global pandemic could cause substantial market volatility, exchange-trading suspensions, and closures, which may lead to less liquidity in certain instruments, industries, sectors, or the markets, generally, and may ultimately affect Fund performance. For more information, please refer to the "Principal risks" section of the Prospectus.

The views expressed in this report are exclusively those of Emory W. Sanders, Jr., CFA, at Manulife Investment Management and are subject to change. They are not meant as investment advice. Strategic Fixed Income Fund

Discussion of Fund performance

An interview with Portfolio Manager Thomas C. Goggins, Manulife Investment Management

Can you describe the U.S. bond market environment for the six months ended 30 September 2023?

U.S. bonds declined as bond yields rose broadly. Economic and inflation data released during the period led to expectations that the U.S. Federal Reserve (Fed) would not be lowering short-term interest rates anytime soon. In particular, the labor market and consumer spending remained robust, while the 12-month inflation rate ticked higher during the latter half of the period after a year of steady declines. The Fed raised short-term interest rates twice during the period—to the highest level since 2001—but held rates steady at its most recent policy meeting in September.

In this environment, bond yields rose across the board, putting downward pressure on bond prices. From a sector perspective, residential mortgage-backed securities and U.S. Treasury bonds declined the most due to their interest-rate sensitivity, while high-yield corporate bonds and asset-backed securities posted positive returns for the period.

How did the fund perform?

The Class W USD Accumulating Shares posted a loss of 2.77% but outperformed the 4.80% loss of its benchmark, Bloomberg Multiverse Total Return Index.

Sector allocation was one factor behind the Fund's outperformance, led by a meaningful position in high-yield corporate bonds and an overweight allocation and security selection in investment grade corporate bond. The Fund's duration (a measure of interest-rate sensitivity) was shorter than that of the index, which limited the negative impact of rising interest rates on Fund performance. Foreign currency positioning was another positive contributor to performance; the Fund had less exposure to foreign currencies than the index, which proved valuable as the U.S. dollar strengthened against the world's major currencies.

On the downside, security selection detracted from performance. Selection of high-yield corporate bonds partially offset the gain from its overweight position. Additionally, an allocation to convertible bonds (not held in the benchmark) detracted from performance.

Notes about risk

The Fund is subject to various risks as described in the Fund's Prospectus. Political tensions, armed conflicts and any resulting economic sanctions on entities and/or individuals of a particular country could lead such a country into an economic recession. A widespread health crisis such as a global pandemic could cause substantial market volatility, exchange-trading suspensions, and closures, which may lead to less liquidity in certain instruments, industries, sectors, or the markets, generally, and may ultimately affect Fund performance. Emerging Markets Debt Fund

Discussion of Fund performance

An interview with Portfolio Manager Roberto D. Sanchez-Dahl, CFA, Manulife Investment Management

How did emerging-market debt perform for the six months ended 30 September 2023?

Emerging-market (EM) debt declined modestly. The period began on a positive note as improving global economic conditions contributed to risk-on market sentiment, which led to stronger investor demand for risk assets, including EM debt. Declining inflation in many emerging economies and growing investor demand for yield were also supportive for EM bonds. In the latter half of the period, however, expectations that central banks in developed countries would hold rates at relatively high levels for an extended period of time led to rising bond yields and a shift in market sentiment, which weighed on risk assets such as emerging-market debt.

Nonetheless, EM bonds held up notably better than developed bond markets for the period. Within emerging markets, high-yield bonds outperformed investment-grade thanks to their high interest income and more limited interest-rate sensitivity. U.S. dollars fared better than bonds denominated in local currencies.

How did the Fund perform?

The Class W USD Accumulating Shares posted a loss of 0.34%¹ outperforming the 1.14% loss of its benchmark, the JPMorgan EMBI Global Index. The Fund's exposure to high-yield bonds contributing factors to the outperformance of the index. Individual security selection also added value, particularly among issuers in Latin American markets such as Argentina, Brazil, Oman and Mexico. Credit exposure in other markets—including India—was another positive contributor to performance. The Fund's duration (a measure of interest rate sensitivity) positioning versus the index helped performance.

The Fund's allocation weighed on performance, particularly non-USD EM government holdings, and U.S. agency holdings.

Share class return calculations is based on the published NAV per share.

Notes about risk

The Fund is subject to various risks as described in the Fund's Prospectus. Political tensions, armed conflicts and any resulting economic sanctions on entities and/or individuals of a particular country could lead such a country into an economic recession. Global Emerging Markets Equity Fund

Discussion of Fund performance

An interview with Portfolio Manager Philip Ehrmann, Manulife Investment Management

What were the main drivers of emerging-market equity performance during the six months ended 30 September 2023?

Emerging-market (EM) equities fell, as measured by the fund's benchmark, the MSCI Emerging Markets Index, depressed by rising bond yields, higher oil prices, and slowing economic growth. An improved outlook for inflation and the prospect of easing monetary policies in selective EM countries provided positive catalysts through much of the period. However, a long-anticipated rebound in China's economy following its late 2022 removal of strict COVID-19 rules failed to meet expectations. Concerns about China's property sector and the strength of manufacturing pressured Chinese equities, fueling deflationary pressures at a time when most other major economies continued to battle persistent inflation. Recurrent geopolitical tensions, including Sino-U.S. trade restrictions and the protracted tension between Russia and Ukraine, presented further challenges. The direction of monetary policy began to diverge in the period's latter months, with most EM central banks keeping rates on hold while China and some other countries cut rates.

Against this background, energy, financials, and utilities were the only sectors to post positive results within the fund's benchmark; communication services, materials, and real estate sectors posted the weakest results.

In the market environment described above, how did the fund perform?

The Class W USD Accumulating Shares posted a loss of 7.45%¹, underperforming the 2.05% loss of its benchmark. Security selection notably detracted from relative performance in the consumer discretionary, information technology, and industrials sectors; selection had a positive impact in communication services and healthcare sectors.

At the individual security level, what were the key drivers of relative performance?

A position in Glodon Co., Ltd. (an out of benchmark position), detractor from performance relative to the benchmark. Shares of Glodon, a Chinese software company, fell after its quarterly earnings came in below expectations. We sold the fund's position in Glodon during the period. Other notable detractors were AIA Group, Ltd. (an out of benchmark position), a Hong Kong-based insurance company, and LG Chem, Ltd., a South Korea-based chemical company.

The position that had the most positive impact on relative performance was XP, Inc. (an out of benchmark position). Shares of the Brazilian investment management company rose amid a favorable investment environment in Brazil. Other notable contributors were positions in SK Hynix, Inc., a South Korean supplier of random-access memory and flash memory chips, and Saudi Tadawul Group Holding Co., a Saudi Arabia-based capital markets company.

2. Basis of preparation

The condensed interim financial statements for the six months ended 30 September 2023 have been prepared in accordance with IAS 34: Interim Financial Reporting, Irish statutes comprising the ICAV Act, the UCITS Regulations and the Central Bank UCITS Regulations. The condensed interim financial statements of the ICAV have been prepared on a going concern basis of accounting.

The condensed interim financial statements should be read in conjunction with the annual report and audited financial statements for the financial year ended 31 March 2023 which were prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") as adopted by the European Union ("EU").

The condensed interim financial statements are not the statutory financial statements of the ICAV and are prepared in order to meet regulatory requirements. For the financial year ended 31 March 2023 the statutory auditor's report in the audited financial statements was unqualified.

In preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRS the ICAV is required to make certain accounting estimates and assumptions. Actual results may differ from these estimates and assumptions. The Directors believe that any estimates used in preparing the financial statements are reasonable and prudent. Critical accounting estimates are those which involve the most complex or subjective judgements or assessments. The areas of the ICAV's business that typically require such estimates are the determination of the fair value of financial assets and liabilities.

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention except for financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss. The financial statements of each Fund and the ICAV are presented in USD being the currency that they are primarily exposed to.

5. Share capital

Authorised

The authorised share capital of the ICAV is divided into share capital of 500,000,000,000 redeemable shares of no par value and 2 redeemable management shares ("Management Shares") of €1.00 each and shall at all times be equal to value for the time being of the issued share capital of the ICAV. Management Shares do not entitle the holders thereof to any dividend and on a winding up entitle the holders thereof to receive the consideration paid for them but do not otherwise entitle them to participate in the assets of the ICAV. The Directors have the power to allot shares in the capital of the ICAV on such terms and in such manner as they may think fit.

Redeemable shares and net assets attributable to holders of redeemable shares

The redeemable participating share capital is at all times equal to the Net Asset Value ("NAV") of the Fund. Redeemable participating shares are redeemable at the Shareholders' option and are classified as financial liabilities.

Please refer to the Prospectus for each Fund's initial minimum subscription amount for shares.

6. Taxation

Under current law and practice the ICAV qualifies as an investment undertaking as defined in Section 739B of the Taxes Consolidation Act, 1997, as amended, (the "Taxes Consolidation Act"). On that basis, it is generally not chargeable to Irish tax on its income and gains so long as the ICAV is resident for tax purposes in Ireland. However, Irish tax may arise on the happening of a "chargeable event". A chargeable event includes any distribution payments to Shareholders or any encashment, redemption, cancellation or transfer of shares and the holding of shares at the end of each eight year period beginning with the acquisition of such shares.

No Irish tax will arise on the ICAV in respect of chargeable events in respect of:

- a Shareholder who is neither Irish resident nor ordinarily resident in Ireland for tax purposes, at the time of the chargeable event, provided appropriate valid declarations in accordance with the provisions of the Taxes Consolidation Act, are held by the ICAV; and
- certain exempted Irish tax resident Shareholders who have provided the ICAV with the necessary signed statutory declarations.

Dividends, interest and capital gains (if any) received on investments made by the ICAV may be subject to withholding taxes imposed by the country from which the investments income/gains are received and such taxes may not be recoverable by the ICAV and its Shareholders. Withholding tax and reclaims incurred on dividends are recorded on ex-date. Dividends receivable are shown net of withholding taxes payable, if any, in the Statement of Financial Position.

The ICAV may be subject to taxes imposed on realised and unrealised gains on securities of certain foreign countries in which the ICAV invests. The foreign capital gains tax expense, if any, is recorded on an accrual basis and is included in Capital gains tax on the Statement of Comprehensive Income. The amount of foreign tax owed, if any, is included in Capital gains tax payable on the Statement of Financial Position.

7. Efficient portfolio management and currency hedging

The ICAV may, on behalf of each Fund and subject to the conditions and within the limits laid down by the Central Bank, use techniques and instruments for hedging purposes (to protect the Fund's unrealised gains by hedging against possible adverse fluctuations in the securities markets or changes in interest rates or currency exchange rates that may reduce the market value of the Fund's investment portfolio or for the purposes of efficient portfolio management (including but not limited to forward foreign currency exchange contracts, futures contracts, options, put and call options on securities, indices and currencies, stock index contracts and swap contracts). Hedging can occur at share class level also.

The ICAV may also use repurchase/reverse repurchase and securities lending agreements for the purposes of efficient portfolio management. References to a Fund entering into a Financial Derivative Instrument ("FDI") shall be construed as the ICAV entering into such FDI on behalf of a Fund, where appropriate. A Fund may also use FDIs to seek to enhance returns, currency hedging, spreads or gains, or to efficiently invest excess cash or quickly gain market exposure. A Fund may engage in such transactions on an exchange or in the over-the-counter ("OTC") market.

The ICAV may engage in such techniques and instruments for the reduction of risk, cost or the generation of additional capital or income for each Fund with an appropriate level of risk, taking into account the risk profile of the ICAV and the relevant Fund as described in the Prospectus and the general provisions of the UCITS Regulations.

The use of techniques for efficient portfolio management is not expected to raise the risk profile of a Fund or result in higher volatility.

The Funds may only employ FDIs that have been specified in the risk management process that the ICAV has submitted to the Central Bank of Ireland. The global exposure of Strategic Fixed Income Fund associated with the use of FDIs is measured using either the Value at Risk ("VaR") or commitment approach in accordance with the requirements of the Central Bank of Ireland. All other Funds are calculated using the commitment approach.

During the financial period 30 September 2023 or 31 March 2023, the Funds did not engage in repurchase or reverse repurchase and securities lending agreements, for the purposes of efficient portfolio management. The Funds have entered into FDI contracts. Please refer to Schedule of Investments for details of FDIs held at financial period end.

8. Financial instruments and associated risks

Role of the Manager

Manulife Investment Management (Ireland) Limited, (the "Manager") acts as manager to the ICAV and each Fund has the power to delegate one or more of its functions subject to the overall supervision and control of the ICAV.

The Manager will monitor each Sub-Investment Manager's management of the ICAV's investment operations in accordance with the investment objectives and related investment policies, as set forth in the Prospectus and any Supplement issued by the ICAV and review and report to the Directors on the performance of such Sub-Investment Manager.

The Manager is a private company limited by shares and is incorporated in Ireland. The Manager has been authorised by the Central Bank of Ireland to act as a UCITS management company and to carry on the business of providing management and related administration services to UCITS collective investment schemes.

The Manager has delegated some of its responsibilities as detailed in the relevant Sub-Investment Management agreement. The Sub-Investment Managers of the Funds are detailed in the table below:

| Fund Name | Sub-Investment Manager |
|-------------------------------------|---|
| U.S. All Cap Core Equity Fund | Manulife Investment Management (US) LLC |
| Strategic Fixed Income Fund | Manulife Investment Management (US) LLC |
| Emerging Markets Debt Fund | Manulife Investment Management (US) LLC |
| Global Emerging Markets Equity Fund | Manulife Investment Management (Europe) Limited |

The ICAV's financial risk management objectives and policies continue to be consistent with those disclosed in the ICAV's Annual Report and Audited Financial Statements for the financial year ended 31 March 2023.

Risk mitigation & management

The Manager operates a risk management process on behalf of the Funds in relation to the use of FDIs which allows it to accurately measure, monitor and manage the various risks associated with FDIs and other investments, and which is intended to ensure that the Funds' investments including FDI exposure remains within the limits. This risk management process also takes into account any exposure created through FDIs embedded in investments held by the Funds.

Capital management

The capital of the ICAV is represented by the net assets attributable to holders of redeemable participating shares. The amount of net assets attributable to holders of redeemable shares can change significantly on a daily basis, as the ICAV is subject to daily subscriptions and redemptions at the discretion of the Shareholders. The ICAV's aim with respect to management of its capital is to safeguard its ability to continue as a going concern in order that each Fund may achieve its overall objective, and to maintain a strong capital base to support the development of each Fund's investment activities.

The Manager monitors capital on the basis of the value of net assets attributable to holders of redeemable participating shares.

Fair value measurement & hierarchy

The ICAV classifies fair value measurements using a fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurements.

The fair value hierarchy has the following levels:

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (that is, as prices) or indirectly (that is, derived from prices).

Level 3: Certain inputs for the asset or liability are not based on observable market data (that is, unobservable inputs).

The level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement is categorised in its entirety is determined on the basis of the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety. For this purpose, the significance of an input is assessed against the fair value measurement in its entirety. If a fair value measurement uses observable inputs that require significant adjustment based on unobservable inputs, that measurement is a Level 3 measurement. Assessing the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgement, considering factors specific to the asset or liability.

The determination of what constitutes "observable" requires significant judgement by the Manager. The Manager considers observable data to be that market data that is readily available, regularly distributed or updated, reliable and verifiable, not proprietary, and provided by independent sources that are actively involved in the relevant market.

Changes in valuation techniques and related inputs may result in transfers into or out of an assigned level within the disclosure hierarchy, which is evaluated on a semi-annual basis.

Fair value estimation

IFRS 13 provides a precise definition of fair value. If an asset or a liability measured at fair value has a bid price and an ask price, the standard requires valuation to be based on a price within the bid-ask spread that is most representative of fair value and allows the use of mid-price or other pricing conventions that are used by market participants as a practical expedient for fair value measurement.

The ICAV's valuation techniques are employed by the Manager. These techniques include financial assets and liabilities listed or normally dealt in more than one regulated market shall be valued at the last traded price (or if no last traded price is available the latest bid price) on such regulated market. The value of any investment which is not listed or dealt in a regulated market shall be the probable realisable value estimated with care and in good faith by the Directors, or by the Manager. Equity securities, as well as exchange-traded instruments, held by the Funds are typically valued at as of the scheduled close of regular trading on the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE), normally at 4:00 P.M., Eastern Time. Debt obligations are valued based on the evaluated prices provided by an independent pricing vendor or from broker-dealers. Independent pricing vendors utilise matrix pricing which takes into account factors such as institutional-size trading in similar groups of securities, yield, quality, coupon rate, maturity, type of issue, trading characteristics and other market data, as well as broker supplied prices. Trading in foreign securities may be completed before the scheduled daily close of trading on the principal market. Significant events at the issuer or market level may affect the values of securities between the time when the valuation of the securities is generally determined and the close of the principal market. The Fund uses fair value adjustment factors provided by an independent pricing vendor to value certain foreign securities in order to adjust for events that may occur between the close of foreign exchanges or markets and the close of the principal market.

The value of exchange traded FDIs shall normally be based on the settlement price, as determined by the market in question, as at the Valuation Point. Where it is not the practice for the relevant market to quote a settlement price or such settlement price is not available for any reason as at the Valuation Point, such value shall be the probable realisable value estimated with care and in good faith by a competent person, firm or association (including the Manager) appointed by the Directors and approved for the purpose by the Depositary.

The value of OTC FDIs which are dealt on a regulated market shall be calculated by reference to freely available market prices at which a OTC derivative of the same size, currency and maturity could be affected at the Valuation Point. Where an alternative valuation is used (i.e. a valuation that is provided by a competent person, firm of association, including the Manager appointed by the Directors and approved for that purpose by the Depositary) the valuation principles employed must follow best international practice established by bodies such as International Organisation of Securities Commissions ("IOSCO") and Alternative Investment Management Association ("AIMA").

Options listed on an exchange are valued at the mid-price of the last quoted bid and ask prices from the exchange where the option trades. Swaps and unlisted options are valued using evaluated prices obtained from an independent pricing vendor. Futures contracts whose settlement prices are determined as of the close of the NYSE are typically valued based on the settlement price while other futures contracts are typically valued at the last traded price on the exchange on which they trade. Foreign equity index futures that trade in the electronic trading market subsequent to the close of regular trading may be valued at the last traded price in the electronic trading market as of the close of the NYSE. Forward foreign currency contracts are valued at the prevailing forward rates which are based on foreign currency exchange spot rates and forward points supplied by an independent pricing vendor.
