U.S. All Cap Core Strategy

Key facts¹

Style	Core
Strategy inception	January 2011
Benchmark	Russell 3000 TR Index

Investment philosophy²

The team believes companies delivering positive compounding cash flow growth should outperform over time. The team models attractive businesses across multiple fundamental scenarios 5 to 15 years into the future, a level of analysis they believe offers an investment horizon advantage. The strategy is style-agnostic, seeks to have high active share, and pursues capital appreciation.

Gross performance results does not include advisory fees and other expenses an investor may incur, which when deducted will reduce returns. Changes in exchange rates may have adverse effects. Net performance results reflect the application of the highest incremental rate of the standard investment advisory fee schedule to gross performance results. Actual fees may vary depending on, among other things, the applicable fee schedule and portfolio size. Investment management fees are available upon request.

Past performance is not indicative of future results. Performance shown is the composite as of the date shown in USD. Returns greater than one year are annualized. Inception Date: January 1, 2011.

1 The Russell 3000 Index measures the broad U.S. equity universe representing approximately 98% of the U.S. market.
